

Look Up! Radio becomes a media partner of the project

On 9 April 2018 Look Up! Radio becomes a media partner of the project ROBOTS.

Look Up! Radio is the first web radio of a higher school in Bologna, It is in our Institute Aldini Valeriani. It is an unique, educational and inclusive project: it puts transversal skills that are typical various fields of the school Aldini (from graphics and communication to electronic-electrotechnics) and it becomes a new form of school-work alternation, for all students, including the students of the first year. Its name is an English name: "Look Up!" is a jargon exhortation that incites to seek and to shake. Furthermore, 40% of the hours of transmission are in English.
